FOR THE SECOND YEAR RUNNING NOVACYT WINS

TECHNOLOGY FAST 50 AWARD

Paris, France and Cambridge, UK - 7 November 2017 - Novacyt (EURONEXT GROWTH: ALNOV; AIM: NCYT), an international specialist in clinical diagnostics, today announces it has won, for the second consecutive year, the Ile-de-France award of the Deloitte Technology Fast 50 French programme, an initiative that rewards fast growing companies.

The Technology Fast 50 is one of France's foremost technology award programmes. It is a ranking of the country's 50 fastest growing technology companies, based on revenue growth over the last four years. The Ile-de-France award recognises Novacyt as the fastest growing listed technology company in the region, including Paris, during the past four years.

Novacyt's three core strategic pillars centre on organic, acquisition and R&D led growth. Through a combination of these pillars, Novacyt has achieved this award by delivering strong revenue growth averaging 113% between 2013 and 2016. In 2016, the Group generated revenues of €11.1 million on a consolidated basis, representing annual growth of 25%, with a 55% gross profit margin, which was an increase of seven percentage points on the previous year.

In line with the Group's continued commitment to commercial expansion, part of the UK business recently moved into a state-of-the-art manufacturing facility in Camberley. This new, larger facility will accommodate increased manufacturing of Lab21 products with additional future capacity for NOVAprep®, the Company's proprietary technology platform.

Graham Mullis, Group CEO of Novacyt, commented:

"We take great pleasure in winning the Fast 50 Ile-de-France award for the second consecutive year. This award recognises our record of delivering significant long term growth. I would like to thank all our employees for their dedication and commitment in driving our business forward culminating in this achievement."

"We remain committed to our three core strategic pillars which are delivering strong growth and put us on a pathway to sustainable profitability."
